

Join the community !

Get real time access to the latest news, events and project activities information

If you are interested in topics such as “open access, re-usability of biodiversity data and information, linking biodiversity data, a.o.”, we encourage you to join the pro-iBiosphere online community.

- Be instantly updated on the latest project, biodiversity and EU news
- Participate in the fruitful discussions and debates
- Build new connections with specialists in the field
- Promote your project among experts

Be sure to check out our social media, like or follow us and/or join the conversation!

pro-iBiosphere is a project funded by the European Commission DG CONNECT under the FP7 research funding programme

